TO THE MINNESOTA STATE BAR ASSOCIATION:

Your Committee reports as follows:

Report

Your Committee reports that a very interesting and successful meeting of the 1948 Bar Conference was held on September 17, 1948, at the University Club in St. Paul. The business meeting convened at 1:30 P.M., and continued throughout the afternoon, and various topics came up for report and discussion. Representatives from nearly every District Bar Association attended, as well as a number of Committee Chairmen. As usual, the Conference was held a day prior to the meeting of the Board of Governors.

The Conference considered the report of W. W. Gibson of Minneapolis, Chairman of the Public Relations Committee; a discussion of the Legal Institute's programs for the ensuing year, conducted by Donald B. Smith of St. Paul, Chairman; also, a discussion of the work of the Section of Real Property, and a short review of standards adopted, and a report and discussion of the work of the Unauthorized Practice Committee by Robert J. Nowack of Minneapolis, Chairman, augmented by a very interesting report by Clifford W. Gardner of St. Paul. Professor Lloyd N. Short, Director of Public Administration Center of the University of Minnesota, delivered an interesting review of the work of the Constitutional Commission of the State of Minnesota.

Following the business session, a dinner meeting was held and the principal speaker was Mr. Ben Palmer of Minneapolis, who, as usual, delivered a very scholarly address on Lord Coke.

The meeting was highly successful and, besides its social merits, acted as a clearing house for the discussion of problems arising in the various District Bar Associations, and such recommendations as the Conference made were of value to the Board of Governors at its meeting the following day.

Respectfully submitted,
